“ She was and forever will be an amazing friend. Last year around this time she was there to support me after a suicide attempt. I tried my absolute best to be there for her every day, weather it was playing minecraft or just talking about our favorite youtubers. We made plans for meeting in person someday an making youtube videos together. I hope that where ever she is she is happy an at peace. And to her family, thank you for giving her all you had, because of you she was an amazing person who impacted so many lives and will live on in our memory forever. You are loved bri and you are missed. We love you.
