

C Ronald "Ron" Wallace

December 31, 1950 - October 16, 2025

C. Ronald (Ron) Wallace passed away peacefully on October 16, 2025, surrounded by his loving wife and family, after courageously fighting his battle with cancer for over two years.

Ron was born in Fort Belvoir, Virginia, and spent his early years in Europe, including Germany, following his father's military career. His parents, Charles and Doris Wallace, eventually settled in York, Pennsylvania, where Ron attended high school before earning his B.S. in Accounting and an MBA in Finance from Temple University.

During his college years, Ron met the love of his life, Tricia, and the two married shortly after graduation. Their honeymoon in Bermuda sparked a passion for travel that they shared throughout their marriage. Ron adored Tricia deeply—she was his partner, his rock, his best friend. Together, they built a life full of joy, adventures, and a love that lasted for decades.

Ron was a lifelong resident of Bucks County, Pennsylvania, and summered in Ocean City, New Jersey, where he and Tricia raised three beautiful daughters; Jessica, Brittany and Courtney. He was an incredible "girl dad," always their biggest supporter and proudest fan. He often said that of all his accomplishments, none compared to the privilege of raising his daughters.

A talented and dedicated professional, Ron worked as a CPA and auditor before becoming a partner at a New York accounting firm. He later transitioned into banking, where he retired as a Senior Vice President specializing in commercial lending. Ron worked tirelessly throughout his career, making countless sacrifices to give his family the greatest gift he could—experiencing the world together.

Travel became their shared passion and his proudest legacy. In his final days, as the family reminisced about their adventures, Ron fondly recalled unforgettable trips to Thailand, Singapore, Australia, New Zealand, Russia, and Fiji, along with many cherished visits to Disney World, Europe, and the Caribbean. Above all, Maui, Hawaii, held a special place in his heart—where he delighted in Macadamia Nut Pancakes and found peace watching the sunrise over the ocean.

To know Ron was to know his generous spirit, joyful heart, and unmistakable sense of humor. He was the kind of man who would give you the shirt off his back without hesitation and still manage to make you smile through life's hardest moments, including in his final days.

He was a diehard Philadelphia Eagles fan who took great pride in witnessing not one, but two Super Bowl victories in his lifetime—and he left this earth while they were reigning champions.

Ron had a deep love for music, and his daughters will always cherish memories of blasting songs in the car and singing together at the top of their lungs. He enjoyed deep-sea fishing excursions during the many cruises he took around the world with his wife.

While Ron didn't want to leave his beloved wife and daughters, his deep and abiding faith gave him comfort. A lifelong Catholic and devoted member of St.

Bede the Venerable Church, he faced the end of his journey with grace and peace, ready to rest in the Lord's Kingdom.

C. Ronald Wallace is survived by his devoted wife, Patricia Wallace; his three cherished daughters, Jessica and husband, Mitch, of London, England; Brittany and husband, Harrison, of Raleigh, North Carolina; and Courtney and husband, Matthew, of Charlotte, North Carolina. He was a proud grandfather to Rhone, Ciella, Riley, and Carter. Ron is also survived by his beloved sisters, Connie and Donna, and was predeceased by his sister, Sharan, as well as his parents. Our family feels the void of his absence and he will be deeply missed and lovingly remembered.

Funeral arrangements are being managed by St. John's Family Funeral Home in Florida and Faust Funeral Home in Pennsylvania. A mass of Christian burial will be held on Monday, November 17th, at St. Bede's the Venerable Catholic Church.
