

Candace S Nottingham

October 26, 1951 - March 27, 2025

Candace “Candy” S. Nottingham, 73, of Jacksonville, Florida, passed away peacefully on Thursday, March 27, 2025, with her loving family by her side. Born and raised in Madison, South Dakota, Candy moved to Treasure Island/St. Pete Beach, Florida at the age of 15. She later pursued her passion for helping others, earning her nursing degree in North Dakota.

Candy’s career spanned nearly four decades, beginning as a life flight and ICU nurse, and later transitioning to hospice care, where she made a profound impact on countless lives. She volunteered her time serving as the Parrish nurse for her church, St. Mark’s United Methodist in Ocala, Florida. In pursuit of a second career, she earned her master’s degree in Oriental Medicine and Acupuncture from Dragon Rises College. Her compassionate care and deep commitment to her patients’ well-being earned her the respect and admiration of those who worked alongside her.

Candy spent most of her adult life in Ocala where she raised her son, as a single parent. In 2024, Candy relocated to Jacksonville, Florida, to be closer to her son’s family, where she continued to enjoy love and support.

She is survived by her son, Robert D. Nottingham; daughter-in-law, Hannah Nottingham; granddaughters, Cameron and Parker; her sister, Dixie and many nieces and nephews.

“ I loved Candy very much, and admired her. She used to drop Robbie off and he would visit us sometimes for months. He loved staying with us because he had 3 built in kids to play with, and it would also give her a little break❤️ Robbie, you were a handful😓😓, but your mom loved you so much! She was such a tolerating person, and had so much patience! She was a beautiful woman, and will be greatly missed❤️❤️

“ Candy was a woman of faith who valued her friends and family. She was very artistic and creative and leaves behind watercolors and handmade crafts and that her family will treasure. She left us too soon and will be missed my many.
