“ Candi Love, where do I start? You were a headstrong little girl when we meet, ultimately that headstrongness served you well in life. You become the most amazing, resilient, & strong woman. Life & people could knock you down, but nothing could ever keep you down. You were my adopted daughter & an amazing friend. I remember the day you discovered karaoke. I sang regularly, but you had no idea. We were at my house, cleaning & listening to music. I played Tanya Tucker's, Delta Dawn & you fell in love. You started singing along with me & we played & sang it over & over again that day and many days after for years. Karaoke become our thing & Delta Dawn was our song. So while you find peace, unconditional love & rest in heaven with God, please keep singing our song. I have & always will think of you when hearing it. Although there are many more memories, there is not enough. You are gone way too soon. I know I'll see you again, but selfishly not soon enough. My heart aches. But, I know you're not suffering, your pain is gone and that has to be enough to help us all get through losing you. Until I see you again, fly fly high, sweet child, fly. Sing with God & rest in peace sweet child.

“Candice, you are truly missed by so many and loved by all. For the short time that I have known you—you have changed my entire world. You were very sweet and caring and loved your children more than anything. You were an amazing mother and an extraordinary friend. I wished we had been friends for a lot longer than we were given, but I’m forever grateful for the love you have had for my boys! They love and miss their Aunt Candi! Your Luka will always have the blanket you made him to remind him of your amazing love. Rest easy my friend, until we meet again! -Mary

“ From the first time we met our souls were cemented together in a Love that by the grace of God grew into a daddy-daughter relationship.

My Beautiful daughter though I will miss your zest for life, hugs around my neck, and kisses on my check, you will always be daddy's little girl.

My heart aches to see you again, if only for a little while. I cry out to God why, and why so young? His answer is that there is a cycle of life and even though we don't understand, God does. He shares our pain and will help us through, if we let him. So I'm not going to give up I'm going to let God help me through.

*Love You Forever,
Your Daddy*

*Candi loved you and Jim with all her hear & soul. If to much time pasted between calls or visits, she'd absolutely had a driving need to see y'all. She'll always be as close as your heartbeat. Candi was my second daughter; I loved her. Candi will forever be in my heart.
Sending y'all prayers, love and virtual hugs,*
