

Derek R. Horner

October 11, 1944 - June 1, 2026

Derek Ronald Horner, 81, went to sleep on June 1, 2026, in Jacksonville, Florida. He was born in Birmingham, England, on October 11, 1944. His parents were George and Violet Horner.

Derek Horner held a Master's in Marketing and Banking and was a member of the Chartered Institute of Banking in the UK. He was also a Jehovah's Witness and very faithful and loyal to his God, Jehovah. He was very passionate about "English Football" (soccer) and his team, the Birmingham Blues. He loved entering sweepstakes, even winning a few. He loved a good warm beer and even had one named after him at a local brewery, "Ole Horner ESB" available at Old Coast Ales. He enjoyed Elvis Presley's music and considered himself a comic impersonator of Elvis. He considered his friends, Ray Stanley and Steve Harrison the closest he could get to having brothers.

After retirement from banking, he spent time actively helping his wife, Angel, at Countryside Acupuncture, a position he took very seriously. He loved the patient interaction, and they all loved him in return.

Derek Ronald Horner leaves his wife, Angel Lyn Horner; his son, Elliot Horner; his daughter, Aurielle Emily Horner; and grandchildren: Zachary, Liam, Ari, Precious Posey.
