“ Don Durrett, aka "Rebel" was my college roommate our junior and senior years at The University of Notre Dame. Being in engineering, he had almost twice as much homework as I had, but still found time for a couple of touch football games or a wrestling match every week. He was fun to be around and I have always tried to stay in touch with him and Judy. To Rebel's family, I hope you have many more great memories than I had. My only regret is that I never got to fly with him in his home made airplane! I playfully accused hm of building it in his garage and then couldn't figure how to get it out of there! I will never forget him or the rest of his beautiful family.
Warmest and Kindness regards, Ed and Bunnie Lahey
