She was a beloved mother, grandmother, and great-grandmother whose life was defined by love, creativity, and faith. A remarkably gifted artist and an accomplished dance performer and instructor, Ellen shared her talents generously, inspiring and uplifting all who had the privilege of learning from her. Her beauty and elegance were evident not only in her appearance but in the grace with which she lived her life.

Above all, she was a woman of deep and abiding faith in the Lord, our Savior. Her spiritual devotion guided her life and brought her peace, even in passing. She firmly believed that death was not an end, but a joyful reunion, and she held fast to the promise that she would one day be reunited with her beloved family in Heaven.

Ellen will be remembered for her warmth, her artistic spirit, her dedication to others, and her unwavering faith. Her legacy lives on through the generations she cherished and the many lives she touched.

“ I will always love you & forever miss you. I will especially miss our many hours of watching The Chosen & Dancing with the Stars together. I am proud of you for all the effort you put into physical rehabilitation after cheating death over the last few years. Your legacy is the great resilience you showed our family, and that strength will continue through many generations to come. We are at peace knowing you have joined the rest of our family in Heaven. I will continue to be your biggest advocate as well as your loving daughter as long as I live. Monica
