

Esperanza Barona Serafin

October 24, 1955 - August 27, 2025

Esperanza Barona Serafin, born on October 21, 1955, to Rocio Barona Jimenez and Teodoro Delgado Moreno, left this world surrounded by love, leaving behind a legacy of warmth, laughter, and devotion. A remarkable woman, Esperanza moved from Spain to America when she married Charlie Serafin. She bravely left her family behind to start a new chapter in her life. A proud mother of twin daughters, Rocio Truitt and Raquel Serafin, she embraced motherhood with an open heart and an unwavering spirit.

Esperanza was a fantastic cook and loved to shower her family with delicious meals, creating memories around the dining table that will be cherished forever. She had a passion for interior decorating and transformed spaces into beautiful havens, a reflection of her vibrant personality. With a profound love for plants, she nurtured not just her home but also the lives of those around her, bringing beauty and joy into their worlds.

She will be remembered not only for the love she gave to her family and friends, but also for the devotion she had to her treasured furry companions—her dog Lady, her cat Popi, and her grand-dog Benji. They brought her endless comfort and love.

Her love for travel took her to many places, with her home town Sevilla, Spain and California being her favorites. The beach was her sanctuary, where she found solace and joy in the sun, pelicans and waves, never missing an opportunity to share these moments with her family.

A woman of deep faith, Esperanza held a profound love for God, Jesus, and the Holy Spirit, sharing her beliefs and values openly with everyone she encountered, ensuring that her family honored their faith together. She would continually say we are nothing without God. She was incredibly generous and caring, always willing to give selflessly to anyone in need. A conversationalist at heart, she never met a stranger; her warmth and charm made everyone feel welcome and loved. Her fantastic sense of humor and outgoing nature brought laughter and light to every gathering, and she was known for her flirtatious charm.

Esperanza loved her family so much and shared a special bond with her siblings, including her sisters Rocio Delgado-Barona and Antonia Delgado-Barona, her brothers Theodoro Delgado Barona, and Paco Delgado Barona and her brother-in-law, Juan Carlos Zamora and sister-in-law Aurora Rodriguez Caballero. She loved her grand daughter, Bella Mia Serafin so very much. She held a deep love for her nephews, Carlito Bernal Delgado, Jesús Granada Delgado, Teodoro Delgado Rodríguez, and Álvaro Zamora Delgado and they will forever cherish her memory. She loved her nephews children; Gabriella, Julia and Blanca Bernal Carrero and Alejandro Granado Sepulveda.

She also adored her son-in-law, Steven Truitt. Together, they will carry her spirit forward, celebrating the vivacious life she lived. Esperanza loved life and always gave thanks for everything life gave her. She did not only live life, she savored enjoying every moment, especially next to her loved ones.

As we celebrate the life of Esperanza Barona Serafin, her family invites all who knew her to remember the joy, love, and faith she shared with the world. We remember her, not with sadness, but with gratitude and joy for the bright light she was in our lives. She will be deeply missed, but her light and spirit will continue to shine and live on in the hearts of those she touched. XO

“ I was lucky enough to meet Esperanza and her daughter and son in law a little over a year ago. Esperanza was truly a remarkable woman. Despite any difficult circumstances, she was always so happy, pleasant, loving, and kind. She made the best of every scenario. Witnessing her bond with Rocio was so special- she was the light of her life. She lit up each time Rocio, Steven and Benji would visit her. Her family has become a part of our family. Esperanza is deeply missed, and will never be forgotten. ”

“ First of all, I would like to express my condolences to Esperanza's entire family and especially to her beloved daughter Rocio. Esperanza and I have been friends for almost 50 years. We maintained a very close and familiar connection for all these years. She was a radiant, extroverted person with an extraordinary generosity, always available to help those who need it. She was a very strong and resilient woman in the face of life's adversities and always will be remembered for her nobility and dedication to her family and friends. I have thousands of memories with her and her family and my children and grandchildren adored her and we will always be grateful for the wonderful moments we shared and she will always live in our hearts. You will never be forgotten. I love you always my friend!!

“ My mother was one of the most generous people I've ever known. She had a great love for art, a sharp and funny sense of humor, and a warm sarcasm that could always make you laugh. She adored animals and brought so much life and joy to every room she entered. I cherished every moment I had with her—she taught me so many lessons about life that I will carry forever. She was an incredible cook, a talented decorator, and above all, she loved her family deeply. I feel so blessed to have had her as my mother. Tequiero mas Que mi vida ❤️
