

Frank Joseph McGann

July 13, 1929 - December 22, 2025

Frank was born in New York City, New York, in July of 1929 and grew up in Bronxville, New York. He attended Manhattan College High School, where he distinguished himself as a star athlete, excelling in football, crew, and swimming.

Following high school, Frank began a remarkable professional career that spanned more than 50 years. He worked as a Senior Sales Manager selling BRIXMENT for Louisville Cement and continued with the company through several acquisitions. Throughout his long career, Frank became a respected leader in the Midwest and Chicago cement industry, known for his dedication, knowledge, and integrity.

In recognition of his professional achievements and service, Frank was commissioned as a Kentucky Colonel by the Commonwealth of Kentucky. He was also a devoted and lifelong supporter of the University of Notre Dame, a passion he proudly shared with others.

Frank was an avid and top-tier bridge player, winning many area championships with his partner, Doris. Together, they loved to travel and play bridge, sharing countless memorable experiences along the way.

Frank moved to St. Augustine, Florida, in 2003, where he made his home and continued to enjoy an active and engaged life. He took great pride in working on his home and was always eager to engage in thoughtful political discussions. Above all, Frank was devoted to his family and cherished the relationships he built over a lifetime.

Frank was the last surviving child of his parents, marking the end of a generation in his family.

He is survived and was loved by, Doris Dunn(St. Augustine), Virginia Kessler, Frank McGann, Bryan McGann, whom he much loved.

At the family's request, no donations are requested in Frank's honor.
