“ I cherish the memories of Allan taking me to see horse-racing when he was about 9yrs old. He was a happy go lucky kid but he later explained that it was only the horse racing he was allowed to do, not the betting on horses. When we got older he inspired me to take night upgrading classes with him. He had a passion for education. He never failed to send me a paper birthday card every year. I feel very proud to have had him as a brother and friend.
