“ I was 3 years old when Gary came into my life. When he would take me places I would always tell people he was “My Gary”, like I owned him. Haha. He taught me everything I know from cooking to fishing from respect to manners. He was the best about hiding presents for Christmas so as the Holiday approaches so many feelings go through me. I remember one year he had me going through the whole house on a scavenger hunt. I had been at my parents house for 3 days already and all of the clues were right in front of me the whole time. What a great Christmas!! I’m going to miss the Captain so very much!! Until I see you again Dad. ❤️💔
