

James Lee Weber

August 4, 1944 - November 5, 2025

James Lee Weber, 81, of St. Augustine, Florida, passed away on November 5, 2025, at Baptist South

Hospital after suffering a massive heart attack.

Born in Tacoma, Washington, he was the son of the late Orvil and Julia Weber. James had been a resident of St. Augustine for the past four years, having moved from Federal Way, Washington, so his wife could receive the specialized care she needed at the Mayo Clinic. He was a retired engineer with Union Pacific Railroad, where he proudly worked for many years until retiring at the age of 55.

James served in the U.S. Army during the Korean War, helping to build missile systems, and during that time earned his black belt in karate.

A man of many passions, James was an avid fisherman who loved the ocean and treasured weekends spent with friends at Ocean Shores. He enjoyed traveling with his family—especially to Las Vegas and Disney—and he never turned down a good dessert. A devoted sports fan, he followed all things Seattle, particularly his beloved Seahawks. He also loved watching WWE and anything related to Star Trek.

Above all, James cherished his family. He found his greatest joy in watching his grandchildren grow, play sports, and pursue their interests. In 2020, he suffered a debilitating stroke that he never fully recovered from, yet he continued to face each day with quiet strength and love for those around him.

He is survived by his daughter, Melinda Weber, and her husband, Guy Perkey, of St. Augustine; his son, Jimmy Weber, and his wife, Jolene, of Gresham, Oregon; and his beloved grandchildren—Jordan, Courtney, Aidan, and Brennan. He is also survived by his brother, Patrick Weber, of Auburn, Washington; his sister, Janet Flood, of Edgewood, Washington; and many nieces, nephews, and cousins. He was preceded in death by his wife, Linda Darlene Weber. Arrangements are under the care of St. Johns Family Funeral Home and Crematory.
