“ *John is, no doubt, rotting in hell for his blatant sedition on January 6, 2021. This country we love so much is overrun with far too many traitors like him.
Good riddance.*

“ I don't actually know this remarkable man, but I wanted to give my condolences. I appreciate, so very much, his service to this country. I am distressed at what our government have put you all through all these months and so very sorry about what you have had to endure. May God comfort and bless you during this difficult time. May the Peace of Christ be with you.

I was asked to pray for this patriot by a sister in Christ whom I have never met when he was in hospital.

Continue to pray for his family and friends! ❤️🇺🇸🇺🇸🇺🇸🙏🙏🙏

I'll try my best to attend his funeral service, even I had never met him and not know any family members of his neither. But I believe I will meet him in heaven some day.

Pray for peace, comfort and strength for both families and friends! ❤️
🙏🙏🙏

“ I am a complete stranger, but I served with many brave Marines in Lebanon. John and I would have probably been in the service at the same time. He was a patriot and a man of conviction; deserving of my respect.

If I show up at the service, it will be to honor the man and his memory, not to make any kind of political statement. I will honor another fallen hero and pray for him and his family.
