“ David was my roommate at USC from 1969 until 1971. We shared an apartment off campus one of those years. Even though David was older than me, we got along great. He made friends easily. I admired his creativity in art and mechanics. He could fix just about anything. He was a positive influence on the lives of many people. The last time I saw him was after I had married and moved into a house with my wife. He came to visit me. We lost touch over the years, but I thought of him often. After several internet searches, I found his website. I was stunned to read of his death. I regret not having contacted him sooner. It hurts knowing I'll never see him again. I loved him like a brother. To his family I offer my sincere condolences.

“ It was such a pleasure to know David since our early visits to St. Augustine in the early 1980's. We will always enjoy our paintings by him. He truly showed his love of St. Augustine through his art! Myrna, our prayers and love are with you.
