“ My mom had two of the most caring loving sisters God put on this earth. I'll always remember there honesty, and love you felt when around them. Yes Aunt Lucy was my mom's youngest sister I spent a whole summer with her when Danny was born. I helped her watch Danny while she worked at home and Uncle Phil was still going to the university. We've always been close and I loved her very much. The three sisters are all together looking down on their children waiting for the day we can all be reunited RIP
