“ May you have found the peace you've desperately sought after, needed and deserved, for so many years, Mark. How or why things happen in our lives, only God knows, and in your case, those of us who knew you and/or loved you, stood helpless, unable to give you the hope and support to help you live out the last 10 years of your nightmarish years. But we still have hope that one day, those responsible for all the lies that destroyed you, by killing a little bit of you, slowly and torturously for ten, long years, will one day, pay the price, tenfold, not only to society but to God. Rest In Peace, Mark. May you know and feel now, that while you were here on earth, you were indeed, loved....Nalani
