She never met a stranger, and her warmth and enthusiasm for life touched many. “ Mary was everything already written about her - kind, joyful, and all around wonderful human being. When I first got to know Mary at Availity, she was a one-woman show and so busy. She would hop on a call after hours and while explaining why she couldn't get something done, she would actually be doing the work and completing it while talking to you. She loved her job, she loved helping people, and her kindness and friendship will be remembered by me forever.
