

Patricia Ann Pascale

March 19, 1947 - June 21, 2022

Patricia Ann Pascale, 75, of Ponte Vedra, FL, died on June 21, 2022, in Jacksonville, FL after a battle with ALS. She was born in Port Chester, NY and grew up in Yorktown Heights, NY. She was a longtime resident of New York City and resided in Virginia and Maine before moving to the Jacksonville area. She was a graduate of Yorktown High School, and Hunter College in New York City, where she majored in Art History.

Patricia was committed to her career as a production executive in book publishing. She started out at Chanticleer Press and Doubleday & Company in New York City, moved on to Time Life, Inc. in Alexandria, VA, and retired from the Naval Institute Press in Annapolis, MD. She traveled widely during college and on business, including trips to Italy, Beijing, and Hong Kong. One of her fondest memories was the unique experience of landing on an aircraft carrier while with the Naval Institute.

She had a love for art, books, ballet, opera, and gardening. She was an avid animal lover and was never without at least one cat and even a pet rabbit. Her father instilled in her a love of baseball, and she spent many happy times with her family and friends at New York Mets games.

She is predeceased by her parents Vincent J and Gertrude (Newkirk) Pascale. She is survived by her sister and brother-in-law, Linda and Stephen Sinacori of Ponte Vedra, FL, numerous cousins and their families, and many cherished lifelong friends.

Such sad news. Pat and I were part of a women's consciousness raising group in the early to mid seventies and together with Yolanda and Ruth and Ellen, we continued to meet monthly for quite a while. I have fond memories of talking about the publishing business, terrible bosses, the men (or lack thereof) in our lives, and where to get the best free food at happy hour. I'm so sorry for your loss.

“ I came across this sad news when searching for friends I'd lost touch with. Pat and I worked together at Bantam, Doubleday, Dell in Manhattan as Production Directors. She was a wonderful friend and co-worker and she was a great help and support to me. I was lucky enough to connect with her again up in Maine for a reunion lunch. She was the same smiling, funny, sarcastic person I had known. I'm so sorry to see this obituary, she was a bright light.
