“ I could Never put into words what Paula meant to me. We were friends for 54 years. We met when we were 19 . Ww were neighbors and had small children and worked. We immediately became friends. Our families grew and we were inseparable. Every day we would have tea and pastry (yum yums) and gather our children and after cleaning our houses we would stuff about 8 children in her car and go on adventures. Some I hesitate to write about but those were the Fun Ones Over the years we shared Everything. There were no secrets between us. We became Sisters ♡♡ She would Always sat to me that I was the Sister she Never had. The feelings were mutual between us. We grew old together and still shared everything. Paula was my start of Every Day with a Loving Phonecall followed by several between us Every Day. We always told each other we couldnt imagine Life without Each other. Well here is the time we never wanted to see. My days are very Lonely without My Sister and Friend .She stuck by me through thick and thin. Never Ever could there be a Friendship in our lives like Ours. I miss her Every Morning, Noon and Night. I find myself waiting for her Call to Come but now my Paula is with her Love of her Life, her Husband Ronnie. Although I miss her Terribly, As a True Friend and Sister, I am Happy for Her to have Her Final Wish to Reunite with Her Husband. It is Hard ...But as True Friends We were Always Happy for Each Other. I Miss You Every Day I have left on this Earth My Sister Paula, I will Until We are Together Again. I LOVE YOU MY PAULA. ❤️💔❤️💔💋

“ I will miss her unconditional love and witty humor. She was a second mother to me and her absence will be missed forever.

“ I'll remember Paula especially for the time she kidnapped my Samoyed back that had been mistreated by the people that I left her with when I moved to FI When she got back we gave her a bath and put her in the back seat of my 2 door Toyota and got ready to leave when she passed away. At least she passed away with family and knew she was loved Thanks to Paula 😭😭 RIP dear friend!!
