

Sandra J Peloquin

April 14, 1953 - May 11, 2024

It's been said, "That a woman can accomplish anything she puts her mind to!" Sandra Jean Clark, or Sandra Staples, wife of the late Gary, or Sandra Peloquin, wife of Glenn, has been an inspiration. "She is the most selfless person I know," is another observation of love. We could sit around a campfire, as she enjoyed doing, and toss in so many words of praise. Her daughter, Tonia and granddaughter, Victoria lead the entourage of people in awe of a life that began as the daughter of Stanley Clark and Phyllis Lewis and sailed into a full life that included caring for the elderly and the autistic community, opening a beautiful gift shop, Country in Wicker with her devoted husband Glenn, managed retail stores, Dress Barn and Ross and finally "retiring" to become a competitive fisherman and creative painter. Her influence over so many lives is far beyond even the far and wide bounds of which I know. Miss Sandra would want us all to celebrate life, continue to seek out people we can plant seeds of love and acceptance in and to always venture into new places of self-growth. I invite you to honor a most vibrant, radiant life and lady with me and to hold her gorgeous smile and bright eyes in your thoughts and hearts while letting her warm presence dance through us all.

Tribute Wall

“ Mrs Sandra was an amazing woman. She was loving, caring, always willing to help, and just a blessing to everyone she had came across to. I will never forget the memories that we have had and they will always and forever be in my heart. I love her and will miss her dearly. ❤️
