“ I believe my first memory of Tom was on their first date. They were in High School and I was in 5th grade. He was instantly my Hero. A tall handsome man who had a Varsity letter sweater in High School and that was in his Freshman year. The only thing that was confusing to me was by the time I got to HS it was an all girls HS. From that point on Tom was my Superman and that will never change.

Memories? I have thousands and they are not only good but funny. The last makes me cry now but that will change. So if I see you at the celebration of life for I can tell you a funny and loving personal memory of the 2nd greatest person I ever met who happen to fall in love with the first.
