

Warren W Celli

October 15, 1939 - February 7, 2021

We sadly announce the passing of Warren W. “Onnie” Celli, age 81. Warren was born on October 15, 1939 in Milton, Massachusetts to the late Fredrick and Edna Celli. He was lovingly called “Onnie” by his close family and friends.

Onnie completed an associate degree of Fine Arts at LA Community College. He was a proud U.S. Navy veteran specializing in Aircraft Electronics Operations. Warren utilized his degree in the arts for many years as a graphic designer and marketing specialist for a handful of companies before his entrepreneurial spirit led the way into buying and selling multiple rental properties. Warren loved inventing, drawing, painting and sculpting. He had a passion for writing poetry and songs. He was the creator and editor of his social justice newspaper, “The St. Aug Dog”. However in his spare time, he could be found building and renovating his properties. Warren was a self-described “funite” and was often heard saying he would live forever – in our hearts that will hold true.

Warren is preceded in death by his parents and a brother, Frank Celli.

Warren is survived by two sons, Brandon and Jarrett Celli; brothers, Vincent, Dick and Stephen Celli; sisters, Donna Cronin and Diane Celli. Onnie will be missed by many.

St. Johns Family Funeral Home is in charge of the arrangements.

“ *Class of 1957 Milton High send their thoughts and prayers to Warren’s family and friends.
Warren had sent a greeting to his classmates the end of last year that rekindled old memories of high school.
Rest In Peace Warren*

It always hurts when a member of the 1957 class leaves. Even if we did not know them well It was still like a togetherness. It always hurts to lose someone from the class of 1957
